I can not use output.exists() or output.length() because they return 0 and this is not what I want. So how can I change the file so that it is not overwritten and written to a new file? A: If you are trying to avoid rewriting the file each time you read from it, then you should write the bytes read to a temporary file. I.e., instead of writing to the output file, first create a temporary file, then write the bytes read to that file, and then delete the temporary file. You can then open the output file for writing. Pregnant and Pregnant vs Pregnant and Pregnant Pregnant and pregnant are words that cause more confusion and controversy than a question about why the Empire State Building goes up so high. It may seem like an obvious question, but it's actually a bit more complicated than it seems. There are a variety of different definitions and meanings of the words that lead to a little confusion and misunderstanding. Here's what the experts had to say. 1. A pregnant woman is a woman who is expecting a baby. Pregnant and pregnant are used interchange

Please give us your feedback and if you find bugs let us know.[Central sleep apnea syndrome and cardiac tamponade]. The case of a 42 year old man with cardiac tamponade is reported. He presented with progressive dyspnoea and associated cough. A chest radiograph showed a cardiac silhouette markedly reduced in size. The ECG showed a sinus rhythm. The echocardiography revealed a small pericardial effusion. The patient had frequent episodes of apnoea and cyanosis. The chest radiograph and CT of the neck, thorax, abdomen and pelvis were normal. PAP was revealed with a PSG showing central sleep apnoea syndrome. It was treated with a nasal CPAP. Several patients with such a syndrome also have cardiac tamponade, for which they may need pericardiocentesis.Networks, such as Internet Protocol (IP) networks, are widely used for delivery of voice and data over communications media, such as the public switched telephone network (PSTN) and the Internet. Within such IP networks, a wide variety of services are provided to customers of the IP networks. Generally, IP network customers are assigned a static IP address
