They don't interest me because they're just the same team at this point, but I'd like to think if it came down to it, I'd have better luck with one of them. I do root for one team better on a particular day or when given the choice to pick a favorite - neither of them deserve a closer championship match. _____"The noise you hear is the stars weeping for all the beautiful things left on earth." – Stephen Hawking I see a lot of people on this forum putting a lot of stock in which team has the better chance to win it all in a given year, but I like to think that the Cardinals will end up winning a World Series at some point in the next 25-30 years. They are still the best team in baseball and they have the same nucleus of talent and continuity for the foreseeable future. I also don't care if the Cubs win it or the Indians win it - it's really the same team right now. I think I'm a 50/50 Cubs and Indians fan. They don't interest me because they're just the same team at this point, but I'd like to think if it came down to it, I'd have better luck with one of them. I do root for one team better on a particular day or when given the choice to pick a favorite - neither of them deserve a closer championship match. I understand where you are coming from. I've considered the same thought at times
